

AAll Pittsburgh Chapter Meeting

Wednesday, 12 May 2015
Comfort Inn Conference Center
699 Rodi Road, Churchill 15235

Main Presentation: 7:00

True Sector Rotation: Breaking Through the Efficient Frontier

Scott Juds, Founder and President, SumGrowth Strategies

Automated "True Sector Rotation" enables investors to concentrate on developing strategies and constructing portfolios without the burdensome and confusing process of selecting, tuning, and interpreting indicator algorithms. Its underlying mathematics optimally extracts trend signals from market data by employing the cross-disciplinary sciences of digital signal-processing and matched-filter theory. By owning only the trend leader, one can simultaneously improve returns and reduce risk. While complex "under the hood," this technology is easy to use, with a simple interface and automated trade alerts.

Attend this meeting and learn:

- How signal-processing technology extracts trends from noisy market data
- How "True Sector Rotation" changes the risk/reward game
- How to build a strategy-of-strategies and low-drawdown portfolios

About Scott Juds

Scott Juds has over 30 years' experience in both hands-on and executive-level positions with multiple engineering and technology-based companies and is a published author and named inventor on over 40 US and foreign patents. He holds electrical engineering degrees from University of Wisconsin and Stanford and is a registered professional engineer. In 1992, to improve his personal investing performance, Scott began developing "SectorSurfer," now SumGrowth's flagship investment product.

President's Message

Like all Chapters of the national AAll organization, ours is run by members who volunteer their energy, ideas, and time. In return, they gain a unique opportunity to "rub shoulders" with experienced investors/leaders and to contribute in educating both other members and themselves. You need no special qualifications to make a difference here, just a willingness to learn and to collaborate. In particular, we're currently seeking someone to assist in preparing our meeting announcements. Several members contribute to the process, and the Announcements Coordinator role is straightforward: Transfer information into AAll's web-based form. Please contact one of our leaders if you'd like to play on our team.
